

Tree Roo Rescue and Conservation Centre Ltd

We are a non-profit organisation that rescues and rehabilitates, orphaned, injured or displaced tree kangaroos.

Unfortunately an increasing number of Lumholtz tree kangaroos are being killed by dogs and hit by cars each year.

Please donate to us and the money will go directly towards treating and caring for these beautiful animals.

Return of the Birds

We have now started to build web pages on the EnviroCare website so that we can report to the public the restoration work and bird responses achieved over 20 years of EnviroCare's biodiversity plantings. Linking habitat with corridors increases biodiverse populations of flora and fauna and allows improved gene flow for healthy ecosystems. This project has received financial support from the Australian Bird Environment Foundation and BirdLife Australia.

Featuring Your Birds

We have a team of volunteers who regularly walk EnviroCare's corridor plantings to record which bird species are present. Birds are returning to sites that were once dominated by exotic grasses. Our website needs lovely clear photos of birds and we are missing a few such as: the grey goshawk, superb fruit dove, rose-crowned fruit dove, topknot pigeon and chowchilla. Anyone wishing to share their bird photos can do so on Kuranda EnviroCare's Facebook page. Or info@envirocare.org.au

Pictured: Left Silvereye (Zosterops lateralis), Right: Noisy Pitta

Although Silvereyes are common in gardens and woodlands, these sweet sounding birds are only about 12cm in length, so they are difficult to see in the foliage. Silvereyes can wrap their beaks around and swallow surprisingly large berries for a little bird and they are important seed dispersers especially in young plantings.

We can help identify the birds at your place. Send in a photo to our Rainforest Birds Facebook page or email to info@envirocare.org.au.

Plant of the Month

Kuranda Quandong (Elaeocarpus bancroftii: Elaeocarpaceae)

is having a large flowering episode at the moment which looks awesome! The flowers hang upside down under the twigs and resemble cream coloured skirts. They have a very pleasant smell. The fruits are large green drupes with very dry flesh. The husk inside looks like a rugby ball and has very thick walls. It is a slow grower and gets up to 45 metres tall. The Djabugandjii had special nut stones which they used to crack open these delectable nuts.

If you would like to come in and check out our great selection of native plants don't hesitate to drop in for a chat. See below for opening hours. Our trees are all a $2 donation.
